1.3. Project Summary

This project aimed to provide French teacher candidates with the necessary skills and resources to effectively create and share digital resources in alignment with the revised B.C. Curriculum and Digital Literacy Framework. The focus was on the creation of a set of OER (open educational resources) that are accessible and relevant to teacher candidates in the Core French and French immersion programs (elementary and secondary). Developing and sharing these resources involved collaboration on all fronts (instructors, teacher candidates and faculty advisors) and encouraged an exchange of ideas and a sense of community. We also worked in collaboration with the BC Teacher’s Federation in uploading exemplars and having students upload their own examples to the TeachBC Open Educational Repository. This project made itself visible within the UBC community and beyond, sharing our works among local, national and international conferences.

3. PROJECT IMPACT

3.1. Project Impact Areas – Please select all the areas where your project made an impact.

- Student learning and knowledge
- Student engagement and attitudes
- Instructional team teaching practice and satisfaction
- Student wellbeing, social inclusion

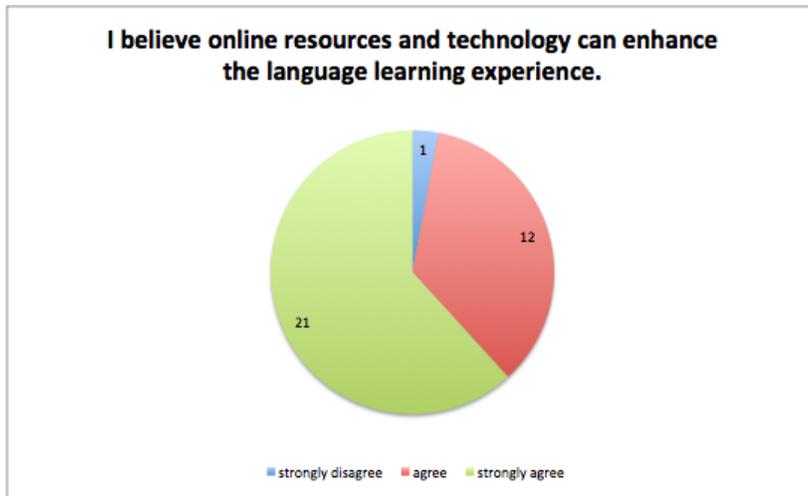

- Awareness and capacity around strategic areas (indigenous, equity and diversity)
- Unit operations and processes
- Other: awareness and capacity around Open Education and Digital Technology Integration

3.2. What were you hoping to change or where were you hoping to see an impact with this project? –

We were hoping to support French teacher candidates in their Teacher Education program to develop digital literacies and introduce them to the various online resources available in French language education that can facilitate learning in their classrooms. We also intended to create and make available additional online resources to support digital technology integration in a language learning environment. In addition, we encouraged them to take a more active role in their educational community by contributing their works to open education repositories such as Teach BC.

3.3. Were these changes/impacts achieved? How do you know they occurred? –

We conducted a pre-questionnaire at the beginning of the fall term with incoming French teacher candidates (TCs). We had over 50% of French TCs in the BEd program participate to share their understandings and impressions of technology, open education resources and digital literacy. Findings revealed that teacher candidates were interested in integrating technologies in the language classroom.

In addition TC responses demonstrate that technology adds value to the language classroom and it can be used to enhance the integration of culture in the language classroom:

As being connected on-line is a part of our everyday life, it makes the learning more student-centered and based in reality.

It makes francophone culture a lot more accessible and available to students. Students are already very comfortable with technology in their everyday lives so it makes sense to use that as a resource to help learners be exposed to the francophone cultures.

I think it can help connect the students to francophone cultures around the world through music, images, videos, research, texts, etc.

Focus groups and a post questionnaire will be conducted in June to see how teacher candidates developed digital competencies and integrated technology throughout the program and during their long practicum.

Throughout the project, we worked on creating accessible resources online, which were shared with TCs and their instructors. We held workshops, co-taught in some of their courses and also offered one-on-one sessions to help TCs with any questions that emerged for them.

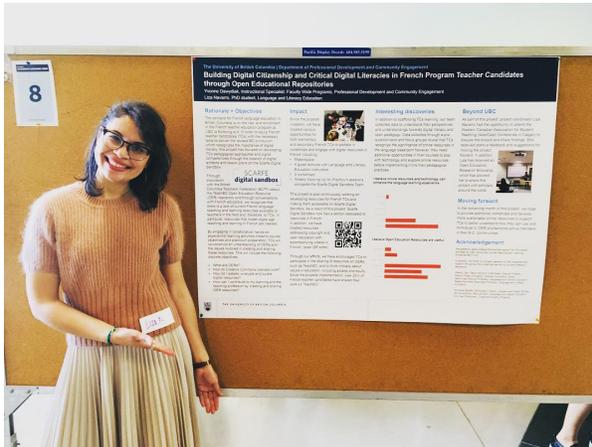

Focus groups conducted demonstrated that teacher candidates valued what they learned and put it into practice, making conscious and purposeful decisions when integrating technology in the classroom. Discussions with French BEd instructors revealed that 20 TCs have uploaded their works to TeachBC, an on-line open repository of teacher created resources. In addition, those who had not yet shared their resources online expressed an interest in being a part of the Open Education community once they are practicing teachers in public schools. Looking back, we would have liked more opportunities to bring this work into the BEd classroom by connecting more closely with course objectives. Due to the nature of an 11-month intensive program, time was a barrier.

3.4. Dissemination –

The work of this project has been disseminated in various conference presentations conducted by Liza Navarro.

1. WestCast Western Canadian Association for Student Teaching (Calgary) – January 2019
2. IOP Investigating our Practices (UBC Vancouver) – May 2019
3. TLEF Showcase (UBC Vancouver) – May 2019
4. LLED Graduate Student Conference (UBC Vancouver) – May 2019
5. Congress: ACLA/CAAL (Vancouver) - June 2019
6. Interculturality in teacher education and training (Sweden) – accepted: June 2019
7. Open Education Conference – accepted: October 2019

Having been selected for the OER research fellowship administered by the OER group provided Liza Navarro an opportunity to informally share this project with the open education community at the fall 2018 conference and via the Open Ed Group website. Due to the rising role of Open Education and the data this project has gathered, Liza has been able to present various aspects of the project to audiences in Canada and abroad. Liza also received BREB approval for this project. As such, once data collection for this project is complete, Liza intends on analyzing findings to write articles for publication.

4. TEACHING PRACTICES –

Yes, our teaching practices have changed as a result of this project as well as that of our French instructors in the BEd program and French teacher candidates. From the team's perspective, this project has allowed us to recognize the lack of accessibility present in French teacher education across the digital terrain. For example, when discussing the use of resources with teacher candidates, many addressed that French resources were scarce and difficult to find in a Canadian context. As a result, we have encouraged the use of technology and modeled technological integration in our teaching approaches and within the Scarfe Digital Sandbox. Thanks to this project, the Scarfe Sandbox now has a section dedicated to French language learning. In addition, we have been exposed to resources that support language learning, that are inclusive and that demonstrate the varied cultures of the francophone world. The French resources created and shared on the Scarfe Digital Sandbox allow for easy access to past, current and incoming teacher candidates and practicing teachers therefore ensuring sustainability.

Graduate students hired as part of this project have also expressed great gratitude and pride in participating. Alix-Anne indicated that this project has informed her future career goals in French education.

French instructors in the BEd program and French teacher candidates have also changed their teaching practices. With each workshop given, discussions showed their interest and appreciation for the use of technology and online resources in a meaningful way. Data collected from online questionnaires indicate that French teacher candidates intend to use online resources.

Q2.6 - As a future French instructor, I will integrate technology to support learning in my classroom.

Data collected from focus groups also reveal that teacher candidates would like to share on OER repositories such as TeachBC. Furthermore, teacher candidates demonstrated that they will strive to be models of digital citizens in years to come. As a result, we believe these changes will be sustainable over time.

5. PROJECT SUSTAINMENT –

This project will be sustained thanks to the online resources developed on the Scarfe Digital Sandbox and the workshops and co-teaching conducted in the French teacher candidates classes. It is our hope that resources will continue to be uploaded to the French section of the Scarfe Digital Sandbox by teacher candidates with the encouragement of their instructors. In addition, we hope that French instructors impacted at UBC will continue to raise awareness of the potential of OERs more generally. Due to the limited time instructors have with French teacher candidates, some resistance may be seen in adopting technology into course syllabus without our presence. Although we managed to work with several course instructors during the project to demonstrate how this can be done, we had hoped for more opportunities for engagement.

In addition, upon embarking on this project, Liza Navarro received UBC BREB approval to collect data. As a result, once data collection for this project is complete, she intends on sharing this project and findings to wider audience through online journal publications. After her project experiences, she has become an advocate for Open Education and has decided to only publish her works in Open Journals so that it is accessible to all.
